CAPITOL CHRISTIAN ACADEMY

THE AMBASSADOR

HISTORY OF C.C.A.

Capitol Christian Academy took its first step in September of 1961. With a faculty of 3, the new elementary started grades 1 through 6 with 65 pupils. Mr. Wendell Hiltzley was the first principal of the CCA toddler. When the Academy closed its door for the summer in June of 1962, 53 pupils were seen rushing from its portals.

CCA started a brisk second year with 35 pupils and 3 teachers. This year there was no principal, Mrs. Kemp, the first and second grade teacher, served as teacher in charge, while Mr. Stuart Westerlund took over the post of faculty advisor. The CCA year of 1962-1963 closed with 34 vacation-minded pupils leaving the well-known playgrounds.

CCA's third year was an eventful one with Mr. Thomas Hall leading the troop as CCA's second principal. The year 1963-1964 saw 44 pupils pass through the hallowed gates of learning.

The year of 1964-1965 saw CCA start off with a bang. A new principal and a new addition were added to CCA's short history. Mr. Earle C. Harriman took over 69 pupils, three teachers, and added the seventh grade.

Mr. Harriman returned to see CCA's fifth year through with 87 pupils and a new eighth grade. Since the end of CCA's third year, its administration had determined, with the help of the Lord, to add a grade each year until twelfth grade was completed. The Lord was gracious and so far things were going well.

The sixth year of this fast growing establishment was led by Mr. Harriman in his third year as principal. The list of pupils was increased to 107 and the roll was nudged up to grade nine.

CCA saw a greater change in its seventh year. Mr. Harriman had said his good-byes, and Mr. Alfred E. Monson took over as principal. The year started with a new addition to the original building and 106 pupils. Tenth grade was added and the first and second grades were separated. The end of the year 1967-1968 went off 115 pupils with CCA's first edition of the school paper.

When September of 1968 came around, Mr. Monson was ready for his part as principal. Grades three through six were separated and 171 students started the new year. Activity period was started, making quite a hit with everyone.

In CCA's ninth year, twelfth grade was added with its first seniors of this new school. Again Mr. Monson was the principal and again the list was increased to 223 pupils.

The toddler has grown and the Lord has helped it through thick and thin. He will continue to guide and help as CCA marches on for God and country.

A DAY AT C.C.A.

Here we are beginning a day of school with a pledge to our country's flag, our Christian flag, and our Bible.

At work. (I think)

Here we are again, only this time we are going home from a "happy day" of school.

IN DEDICATION

To you who started it all;
To you who have taught us in the straight and narrow way;
To you who have constantly prayed for us and our school;
To you who, through your walk, have testified of your love for the Lord and others;
To you, our friend through thick or thin;
To you, Pastor Cooper, we, the senior class, dedicate 70's Ambassador.

THE C.C.A.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '70

FRESHMAN HISTORY

As we began our freshman year, half of our class didn't even know what was coming off and the other half didn't care. We were just kids and mean as ever.

Mr. Utz, our civics teacher, was a real inspiration to all. He knew how to be a teacher when expected, and how to be a person when expected.

Mr. Gillium, our science teacher, had a time trying to push a little knowledge into our heads but he made it; at least everybody passed!

Then who should appear on the scene but Mr. Kishbach, fresh out of college and also fresh out of patience. (besides what's that?)

Last but not least came Mr. Harriman, our principal. He was a wise man in that he seemed to be wise on our note traffic! Speaking of Mr. Harriman this was his last year at C.C.A. The Lord led him to another school.

Thus ended our adventure into the freshman year!

"Class of 70?" The thought hardly occurred to us as Sophomores. We were so busy getting into mischief that we had no time for such distant thoughts!! If we had stopped to think about graduation day, I guess we'd have been pretty abnormal!!

But . . . did we lay aside our mischief??? NO, there was the time we found a turtle and decided we'd give our math teacher, Mrs. Murphy, a little scare! We gathered him up, and put him in the top drawer of the teacher's desk, when in she walks and began class. We made sure that there was no available chalk on the chalkboard and supplied enough questions to make her demonstrate; so she reaches inside the desk. -- Chalk -- and odd shape -- besides chalk just doesn't walk around. She jumped back and screamed, and we all just couldn't hold our laughs any longer, so the classroom went into a roar! We never laughed or cried so much. I think even the turtle got a little excited, too!! -- that is . . . KNOW WHAT I MEAN!

Thanks to Mr. Monson, our new principal, that year, we sophomores survived a big step in our growth. He possessed a great concern for all of us and was willing to always give us the benefit of a doubt. We thank him for his leadership in all areas knowing that God sent him just at the right moment.

Summing it all up, we enjoyed a fine sophomore year.

JUNIOR YEAR

Here we are again -- only Juniors! What a relief! We're still considered "good-for-nothings", but we think we're "Cool" as ever.

We find that locking our teachers out of our classrooms seems to stop a few of those frequent lectures! Our history class with Mr. Kishbach needs some relief. I think he thinks we've all had six years of shorthand or maybe he thinks we have six hands to go with our four heads.

Miss Ratcliffe's just taken extremes to keep our etiquette in line. We girls feel like zombies sitting in our chairs, and the guys really dig holding the doors for us! We don't mind the guys holding the doors for us, but when we have to thank them -- well, we'd just as soon get the door ourselves.

We've elected officers and begun a few projects of our own, to raise money for our senior trip.

I think Betty would probably be able to help us a little more, but Stuart's got all of her attention. (A little inside information -- I think they're planning on getting hooked up in a year or two! They want ten kids, one named after each of us!) Can you imagine that!

Towards the close of the year, we had a swimming party -- the place graciously provided by Mrs. Murphy, our junior advisor. It went over big and I think most of us got wet whether we wanted to or not . . .

Thus ended our junior year.

SENIOR HISTORY

Finally, graduation came! What a relief!! All our years of anticipation had resulted in one big event -- graduation from high school.

We elected officers early in the year. Lenora and Betty teamed up as President and Vice-President respectively. Wow -- the leadership! Stuart was elected Secretary, with Alice being treasurer.

We carried forth from there raising money for our Senior trip. Bake sales, candy stands, candy sales, ect., were all a part of our unending task.

Mrs. Kishbach became a part of our thing, as she helped us a great deal getting the yearbook together. We enjoy her readiness in helping us and her concern for us!

As for us, the Seniors all 10 of us; Valerie, Bob, Ted, Stuart, Betty, Lenora, Margie, Chris, Sharon, and Alice are more than happy to share with each other pleasures and joys. This our Senior year, we've been drawn together immeasurably. We've all experienced a taste of both good life and bad, which will either be chalked up useable or useless. Individually, we must decide!

We've enjoyed our Senior year, and we wish each class at C.C.A. the same happiness as we've had.

Thus ends our high school days!

THE YEARBOOK NAMED

The yearbook should be named AMBASSADOR. This is a scriptural name -- II Corinthians 5:20 says, "And ye are ambassadors for Christ . . ." That is, each of the students, especially the seniors who are moving out into the world should concern himself with winning others -- being an ambassador for Christ. Secondly, the yearbook will be an ambassador for the school, representing it in stories and pictures. It will be a testimony to those who read it of the school's stand. For these reasons I think Ambassador is a good name for the yearbook.

BASKETBALL

The 1969-1970 basketball season was quickly arranged and it grew with time. The interest, enthusiasm and devotion of both parents and students have an indication of what interscholastic sports might be at C.C.A.

The team consisted of young, small, inexperienced ballplayers. But what they lacked in ability and height was made up in dedication to Christ and the game. They began with just one official basketball, worn out sneakers, and "to be desired" uniforms. But this could not be compared to the losses, embarrassments, shame and shattered pride which they suffered. Each loss was taken to heart and there a tear to be found. But, the climax of one game only brought attention to a new game, new strategy, and a new day.

This is life, forgetting those things in the past but learning to cope with the most difficult circumstances such as: youth, inexperience, one ball, poor sneakers, and shattered pride.

Whether to be FIRST in a tournament state championship or just part of the first CCA basketball team has equal honor as only the name of George Washington, Jackie Robinson or John Glenn could illustrate.

1970 CLASS WILL

We, the class of nineteen hundred and seventy, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former will and codicils by us heretofore made.

ARTICLE I. We leave our thanks and appreciation to the faculty for all of their help and guidance.

ARTICLE II. Lenora Bowen leaves "great and wonderful" reflections to future philosophers.

ARTICLE III. Betty Cooper leaves the world of shining necklaces and glowing rings to all who brave that way.

ARTICLE IV. "Ted" Eschinger's fleetness of feet is left to "Joe" Bartemus of the Kishbach Squad.

ARTICLE V. Sharon Bartemus leaves the record of high school misfortunes as yet unbroken.

ARTICLE VI. To the weak at heart, "Bob" Radtke leaves his muscles. May they long endure.

ARTICLE VII. Margie Bowen leaves her dangling earrings and spangles to brighten up the future.

ARTICLE VIII. "Stu" Greathouse leaves his school renowned art pencil to the needy artists of tomorrow.

ARTICLE IX. To all you dreamers of music land, Valerie Holfield leaves her famous "Flight of the Fingers."

ARTICLE X. Alice Wood leaves wispy trails of laughter in every corner.

The Witnesses for the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Seventy: Mrs. L. P. Kishbach, Miss Debie Monson, and Mrs. P. Murphy.

Want to be sure your youngster will have funds for college?

It's as simple as . . .

The time between baby blocks and college books will fly by faster than you think. That's why it's never too early to start planning. And that's where we come in.

With insurance from New York Life. Insurance that can help cover college costs. (And they can run as high as $15,000 over a four-year period.) Insurance that means the money will be there. Even if you're not.

Making sure college funds are available is something we know a lot about. Our experience dates back to the class of '45 — 1845!

Our dividend payments to policyowners go back a long ways, too. Well over a century. Right now they're at an all-time high, bringing the cost of life insurance for millions of our policy-owners to an all-time low.

Talk with your New York Life Agent. Put him to the test. We think you'll find he stands at the head of his class.
